

The Scriptural Foundation for Environmental Stewardship

The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. Psalms 24:1

I. God Created the Earth and All Forms of Nature

Psalms 104:24b, 30; John 1:3; Colossians 1:16-17

II. God Maintains a Relationship with All of His Creation

Psalms 104:25, 27; Matt 6:26.

III. God Teaches Humans through Nature

Job 12:7-10; Romans 1:19-20

IV. God Ordained Humans to be His Stewards over nature

Genesis 1:26. Deut. 7:22; Psalms 115:16

V. God's Commands, when obeyed, Benefit both Man and Creation

Deut 23:12-13; Lev. 25:3-5; Proverbs 12:10

VI. The Creation Mourns Under Man's Abuse

Isaiah 24:4-6; Jer. 2:7; 12:4

CONCLUSION: Scripture clearly states that God created, blessed, protected and made a covenant with the earth and all creatures dwelling on it. While avoiding a _____ view of nature that leads to creature _____ and _____, we must assume our created position as _____ of His creation. It is our _____ and therefore _____ duty to exercise sound principles of stewardship over the earth.

The Scriptural Foundation for Environmental Stewardship

The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. Psalms 24:1

I. God Created the Earth and All Forms of Nature

Psalms 104:24b, 30; John 1:3; Colossians 1:16-17

II. God Maintains a Relationship with All of His Creation

Psalms 104:25, 27; Matt 6:26.

III. God Teaches Humans through Nature

Job 12:7-10; Romans 1:19-20

IV. God Ordained Humans to be His Stewards over nature

Genesis 1:26. Deut. 7:22; Psalms 115:16

V. God's Commands, when obeyed, Benefit both Man and Creation

Deut 23:12-13; Lev. 25:3-5; Proverbs 12:10

VI. The Creation Mourns Under Man's Abuse

Isaiah 24:4-6; Jer. 2:7; 12:4

CONCLUSION: Scripture clearly states that God created, blessed, protected and made a covenant with the earth and all creatures dwelling on it. While avoiding a _____ view of nature that leads to creature _____ and _____, we must assume our created position as _____ of His creation. It is our _____ and therefore _____ duty to exercise sound principles of stewardship over the earth.